Southern States Acquires Siemens Power Switch Business

Now You Can Find From One Supplier the Largest Selection of Air Switches Available Anywhere.

Southern States, LLC, the 80-year leader in quality, service, and technical support proudly announces its acquisition of the Power Switch Division of Siemens Energy and Automation. This creates the country's largest switch supplier, now offering aluminum and copper switches from 600 to 6500 amperes, and from 7.5 to 1100 kV, in a wide variety of styles.

The combined switch lines will be produced at Southern States 160,000 square foot facility in Hampton, Georgia by a management team that has been together for over 20 years, a skilled production workforce that averages over 15 years of Southern States experience, and a network of local representatives, most of whom have been affiliated with Southern States more than 15 years, all bringing you the finest air switch products on the market.

If you're looking for:
